

Ni Hao! Ready for an adventure? I'll be your travel buddy.

China is huge, fast-paced, and almost entirely cashless! To have a smooth trip, you need to prepare your smartphone like a local. Let's dive in.

你好！中国节奏很快且几乎无现金化，你需要提前准备好你的手机。

The Golden Rule: Book Everything in Advance

China is highly digitalized. Whether it's high-speed train tickets, the Forbidden City, or even a popular restaurant, you must book online days (or weeks) in advance using Mini-Programs inside WeChat or Alipay.

Data suggests these 3 spots give the best holistic experience.

From imperial history to futuristic skylines, and finally to breathtaking nature.

这三个目的地涵盖了历史、现代与绝美的自然风光。

1. Beijing (北京)

Vibe: Historical & Majestic

Must-do: The Great Wall, Forbidden City, Peking Duck.

Tip: Bring your physical passport; it's required for all tourist site entries.

2. Shanghai (上海)

Vibe: Modern & Cyberpunk

Must-do: The Bund at night, French Concession.

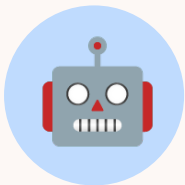

Tip: Ride the Maglev train from Pudong Airport at 300km/h!

3. Guangxi - Guilin (桂林)

Vibe: Natural Wonders

Must-do: Li River cruise, Yangshuo Karst mountains.

Tip: A photographer's paradise. The scenery here is exactly what you see in traditional Chinese ink paintings.

You cannot survive without these installed.

Google Maps and Uber won't work perfectly here. Download these before you land.

这些是你落地中国前必须下载的“生存级”App。

DiDi (滴滴)

The Chinese Uber. It has a full English interface and auto-translates your messages to the driver. Very cheap and reliable.

Trip.com

The absolute best way for foreigners to book High-Speed Trains and hotels. Accepts foreign credit cards smoothly.

WeChat (微信)

Not just for chat! The "Translate" feature inside WeChat is a lifesaver. Scan any Chinese menu to translate it instantly.

Apple Maps / Baidu

Apple Maps works natively in China without a VPN. If on Android, use Baidu Maps (Chinese only, but accurate).

Before you fly, keep these cultural tips in mind!

Tipping? Internet? Plugs? I've got you covered.

来中国前，你需要了解的文化与生活常识。

Q: Do I need to tip waiters or drivers?

A: No! Tipping is not part of Chinese culture. The price on the bill is exactly what you pay.

Q: How do I access Google/WhatsApp?

A: You need an eSIM with a roaming data plan (like Airalo or Holafly) before you arrive, or a reliable VPN.

Q: What power plugs are used?

A: China uses Type A (two flat pins, like USA) and Type I (three angled flat pins, like Australia/New Zealand). Bring a universal adapter!
